Ocean Beach Girl To Marry Colonel Elliott Roosevelt

Faye Emerson, daughter of Mrs. Jean C. Young, 4405 Narragansett ave., Ocean Beach, now a Hollywood film star, will marry Col. Elliott Roosevelt within a week, according to an announcement made by a spokesman for the president's son at Beverly Hills Wednesday, and which was confirmed by Faye Emerson herself. The actress was quoted as saying that the marriage would take place, likely this week end. Time and place of the wedding was not announced.

The Ocean Beach girl, who is now in the limelight, began her dramatic career while she was a student in Point Loma high school. She had leading roles in several of the high school plays. Emory Shepherd, who was then instructor in dramatics, brought out her talent, Mrs. Rhoda McDougall, English teacher, remembered Wednesday.

Faye Emerson was born in Louisiana, spent a part of her girlhood in Texas and also had lived in Chicago before coming with her folks to Ocean Beach to live when she was 12 years old. She attended the local junior high school and graduated from Point Loma high in 1936. She then continued her study of dramatics at San Diego State college and engaged in summer stock with St. John's Community Players in the Globe theatre, in Balboa park. Her outstanding work there attracted the attention of a talent scout for Warner Bros. studio of Hollywood, with the result that she was given a contract in 1940, and has been with Warner Bros. ever since. She is now working at Hollywood on the picture, "Hotel Berlin." She played a prominent role in the picture, "Very Thought of You," soon to be shown in San Diego theatres.

For Col. Roosevelt, who is serving with the Army Air Forces in the photographic division, this will be his third marriage, and will be the second for Faye Emerson. He was divorced from Elizabeth Donner in 1933 and from Ruth Goggins last April. Miss Emerson was divorced from William W. Crawford in 1942. Their 4-year-old son, William W. Crawford III, has been living a large part of the time with his grandmother, Mrs. Young.

Col. Roosevelt is now in Beverly Hills and is in the States on leave from his duties commanding the Allied photographic service in Africa and Sicily.

Mrs. Young will be unable to attend the wedding, Mr. Young reported to The News Wednesday night, having been called to Beamont, Tex., Nov. 19 by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Emma Smythe.

Miss Emerson had last visited her mother and son in Ocean Beach early in November.

ANDY TOSH PAYS HIGH COMPLIMENT TO OCEAN BEACH FIREMEN'S WORK

Andy Tosh, who suffered an estimated $325 damage from fire in his service station at the corner of Voltaire and Abbott st. about 2 p.m. Friday, asked The News Monday to quote him as saying that he never saw a fire handled more efficiently than was done y the Ocean Beach firemen. He especially mentioned their splendid teamwork. Damage to the building, which is owned by Miss Jean Rittenhouse, was estimated at around $750.

Commenting on the cause of the fire, Andy said Monday that the "generator shorted out, causing the blaze, which because of the inflammable material around spread rapidly and soon enveloped the entire building.
oped the entire building."
bills. "Fortunately I was able to save my gas coupons," he said. Andy, however, suffered a singed face and mouth in saving the coupons. One strange thing about the fire was the fact that he found his watch still running and unharmed when he finally retrieved it from a pile of ashes, he said.

Andy said he planned to begin work at once in repairing and replacing and hopes to get the service station in operation again in about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Grayson of 1630 Dale st., San Diego, have purchased the Ball residence at 2139 Sunset Cliffs blvd. and plan to move there today (Friday).

ONLY 4 PERCENT OF BOLTS ON FATAL PLANE WERE IN PLACE SAY INVESTIGATORS

Investigation this week of the Loma Portal plane crash of Nov. 22 that cost the lives of six civilian employees of Consolidated reveals that only four percent of the bolts that were supposed to hold the outer wing panel of the center section of the bomber were in place at the time of the fatal test run of the plane.

Both the F.B.I. and the county coroner, Chester Gunn, are carrying on an investigation.

Gunn has not determined whether a public inquest will be necessary, he said. He expects to make a decision based on additional investigation, but it was said county action would depend largely on what the department of justice does with the F.B.I.'s report.

Four Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. supervisory workers were dismissed as a result of company probe of the crash.

Investigation has centered particularly around one inspector who reportedly checked through the wing section which later was found to have only about four of approximately 100 bolts specified.

OCEAN BEACH SCHOOL NEWS

The special war activity of the Ocean Beach elementary school for the next 10 weeks is the buying of a field ambulance. The selection was made by vote of the students. A field ambulance costs $1620 and a weekly average of $162 must be reached in order to accumulate the amount needed. This week we bought $110.90 in stamps and $18.75 in bonds. Grade four, room 9, was high. In order to encourage stamp and bond buying at school, a new plan has been devised. Friday will be sale day and P.-T.A. members will sell at the school bank in the auditorium. This arrangement has been made so that the children may take purchases home on the day of purchase.

The student assembly this week was in charge of the sixth grade, room 18. They presented a short humorous play that was adapted from a reading lesson story. The cast of characters included: the "deacon," Donnie Hunter; the "deacon's sister," Carolyn Sevak; the "cat," Larry Bailey.

OCEAN BEACH CITIZEN HURT IN CAR CRASH

Jess Roller, 39, of 4882 Saratoga st., suffered thigh bruises in a car accident the latter part of last week. He was riding with Wm. W. Browning, 4958 Saratoga ave. when the Browning car crashed at Pacific highway and Ash st. with a car driven by Sailor Max E. Showe of Camp Kearney. Roller was given first aid by the police and taken to his home.

Rites Held for Kenneth McCrobie Killed in Action

Requiem mass, honoring Sgt. Kenneth James McCrobie of Ocean Beach, who was killed in action on Leyte Island Oct. 26, was held in Trinity Episcopal church, here Friday. Father Philip Harris officiated. A telegram from the War department, giving the news, was received here by his widow, Mrs. Sara McCrobie, of 4749 Del Mar ave., on Nov. 19. Mrs. McCrobie is living temporarily with her mother, Mrs. Hallstrom, at 4731 Niagara ave.

Sergeant McCrobie was born Sept. 5, 1916 in Buffalo, N. Y., spent his boyhood there and graduated from Grover Cleveland high school of that city. He and Sara Hallstrom were married in Buffalo Nov. 27, 1937. In October 1939, they moved to Ocean Beach. He was engaged in carpenter work here and was employed by P. M. Burrows, contractor, until he entered the service in May 1943. He joined the army engineers and left San Francisco about July 1, this year, for overseas duty. After being stationed in Honolulu, he evidently, was assigned to duty with the army in the Leyte Island campaign, and the battle in which he was killed by the Japs is believed to have been his first.

He had been an active leader in church work in Trinity Episcopal, of which he was a member. He had served as treasurer of the church, and president of young people's group and also was active in the Sunday school.

Besides the widow, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McCrobie, two brothers, George and William, and one sister, Mary Lou, all of Buffalo.

THREE SEEK LEASE OF MISSION BEACH SKATING RINK FROM THE STATE

The present lessee of the skating rink at Mission Beach amusement center is giving up the lease and there are at least three men seeking to lease the concession from the state, reports city officials. Larry Finley of San Diego, who has the new three-year lease for the main part of the amusement center to start Jan. 1, is one of the three. The roller coaster concession also is under a separate lease.

According to the leasing arrangement the city of San Diego has with the state, the city can take over operation of the skating rink when and if it so desires.

Paul William, weight 6 pounds and 9½ ounces, was born to C. C. S. and Mrs. R. W. Kleinsteuder, 4859 Lotus st., Sunday, Nov. 19, in the Naval hospital. The little lad arrived on his mother's birthday anniversary.

Baby Incubator Installed in Door Of Hope Hospital

Last week the new and latest design baby incubator arrived and was installed in the maternity hospital of the Salvation Army's Door of Hope home on Bolinas st. This incubator is a gift from the Kiwanis club of Ocean Beach, which includes this home among its list of charitable projects.

The Door of Hope home has been under the ownership of the Salvation Army since 1931 and maintains a thoroughly modern maternity hospital for un-married girls. The home has a staff of nine and a medical staff, consisting of five of the outstanding doctors of San Diego. In addition it also has the services of two local doctors, Dr. Alfred Sand and Dr. Winton B. Oster, who have donated their services in the name of the local Kiwanis club. The home has accommodations for 25 girls and 12 babies. The hospital is a member of the American Hospital association and the American Protestant Hospital association. The Door of Hope home is recognized as one of the outstanding charity institutions of San Diego.

In addition to the donation of the incubator the Kiwanis club, through two of its members, have completely refurnished the living room of the home and also has presented the home with gifts of pictures, mirrors and other home decorations as well as subscriptions to popular magazines.

Once each year the Kiwanis club of Ocean Beach holds its dinner meeting at the home with the Salvation Army officials and the home staff.

CHAS. F. NEAR, PIONEER OF OCEAN BEACH, DIES NOV. 23, AT AGE OF 77

Charles Frederick Near, of 4935 Brighton ave., who had been a resident of Ocean Beach for 32 years, passed away at a San Diego hospital on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 23. He would have been 77 had he lived until Nov. 28. He had been in the hospital for a little more than a month.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. H. B. Bard, were held at Benbough's Funeral Parlors Monday at 12:30 p.m. and burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Near was born in Iowa, Nov. 28, 1867 and was married in Kansas to Mary Shepard on Christmas day, 1899. They came to Ocean Beach 32 years ago and have lived here ever since. Mr. Near was a carpenter by trade.

Besides the widow, he leaves two sons, Wm. Lester and Loyal Charles; and three daughters, Mrs. Louise Eulberg, Mrs. Phyllis Moore and Mrs. Phyrall Clavert; also seven grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Lottie Campbell. All are residents of Ocean Beach.

City To Hire Architect For Recreation Center

City Responds to Request from Large Delegation of Ocean Beach Folks

GROUP OF YOUNG FOLKS FROM BAPTIST CHURCH ATTEND L. A. MEETING

A group of 13 young people from the Ocean Beach Baptist church were in Los Anglees Friday and Saturday and Sunday for the annual Youth Fellowship convention of the Baptist young people of southern California. Approximately 5,000 were in attendance.

In the group from the local church were Verna Mae Hinricks, Ruth Brown, Pat Ruud, Kathleen Woodall, Mary Frances Cooksey, Leona Cooksey, Helen Snelson, Mary Lois Fowler, Rosemary Taylor, Wanda Fields, Bettay Peterson, Mary Hinricks and Helen Scott.

Dr. Sand Advises Great Care in Framing Peace

Above everything else we should profit by the mistakes made in the peace treaty following World war I when we, and the other Allies, make the peace following this World war II, Dr. Alfred Sand of Ocean Beach emphasized in his talk before the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening, on the subject of "Winning the Peace." He was introduced by Lee Woodley, program chairman.

The speaker went into considerable detail to point out what he considered the mistakes made in the Treaty of Versailles. "While we won that war," he said, "we certainly lost the peace."

He suggested that it would be a mistake to exterminate Germany. The control of Germany, he indicated, should be confined to keeping the Germans from re-arming and starting another war, and "we should let them know that we do not intend to exterminate them as a nation," he said. He expressed opposition to many of the methods that have been employed by Great Britain. He also cautioned that there is a possible "Yellow Peril" in the Far East to be taken into consideration.

Initiate Four Members

At the business session, four new members were admitted to membership in the club, their initiation being in charge of Secretary Burritt Mills and President-Elect Jerry Sullivan. The four were George B. Kyle, Graham S. Rogers, Homer J. Gravelle and Paul A. Hendrickson, all of Ocean Beach. Rev. J. F. Roberts responded to a request for a report on the city council's action on Ocean Beach request for a recreation center building.

Guests at the meeting were Dr. J. S. McSparran, a guest of Forest Whedon, and Don W. Moffatt, a guest of Frank F. Swan.

H. H. Hartvigsen will be program chairman for next week's meeting and expects to have the counsellor for Disabled Veterans of the San Diego Vocational school as the speaker.

DEADLINE DATE FOR PAYING FIRST TAX INSTALLMENT, DEC. 5

Tuesday, Dec. 5, is the deadline final date for paying the first installment of taxes, and after that date a 6 percent penalty must be added to first installment of taxes remaining unpaid, reports Sam A. Claggett, the county tax collector. His announcement continues:

"I recommend to those living in rural communities who intend to mail in their remittances that they mail them not later than Monday, Dec. 4, to insure that they will not be postmarked later than Dec. 5, because penalty must be added in case of a postmark later than that date.

"Mail your remittance right now and do not put it off and possibly forget it until it is too late."

Responding to request from a large delegation of folks from Ocean Beach, estimated as high as 75, the city council Tuesday authorized City Manager W. W. Cooper to employ an achitect to prepare plans for the proposed recreation center for Ocean Beach, to be constructed at the corner of Santa Monica and Ebers St. A motion to that effect, offered by Councilman DeGraff Austin, was approved unanimously by the council in regular session Tuesday.

The hearing opened with the reading of a recommendation for the project that had been prepared by Councilman G. C. Crary. His letter urged that the council proceed without further delay to prepare for the construction of a building to cost between $45,000 and $50,000.

Content of his letter was then ably supported by Edwin K. Klenke, a member of the city playgrounds and recreation commission. Klenke said that in view of the estimated 20,000 people to be served by the center the sum of $50,000 would be a reasonable expenditure for the purpose. A permanent structure and recreation program is contemplated, he said.

Mayor Harley Knox suggested that the employment of an architect should be authorized before any appropriation is made. To do otherwise would be to get the "cart ahead of the horse," he said.

The motion as passed carried a clause that the architect confer with the Ocean Beach civic committee on the recreation center.

Rev. James F. Roberts as chairman of the Ocean Beach committee was called on to speak on the subject at the council hearing. He showed the tentative plans that have been drawn for a building 140 by 80 feet and for the preparation of the grounds for outdoor recreation facilities. He said that he had obtained estimates from a competent construction engineer to the effect that the type of building desired could be constructed for approximately $50,000.

Following the hearing, Chairman Roberts stated that he expected the architect would be out here next week to get started on preparation of the building plans.

Episcopal Church Will Hold "Open House" on Dec. 3

Trinity Episcopal church has arranged special public events for the coming Sunday, Dec. 3, the occasion being an "Open House" program in celebration of the improvements that have been made on the church building and parish hall, and particularly the re-decorating of both. The public generally is invited to see the improvements that have been made.

A communion service for men and boys will be held at the 7:45 a. m. hour and the main event will be held in the evening. Dinner will be served at 6:30, for which a silver offering will be taken.

The dramatic club of the church, Miss Meta Bruce directing, will present a play entitled, "The Mystery of the Masked Girl," following the dinner. Cast characters includes Ann Caroway, Adele Kissinger, Kathleen Birdsall, Nancy Rice, Amelia Bruce, Mary Smith, Teresa Murphy and Barabara Lawrence.

SWETLANDS ANNOUNCE FREE ORCHID TO THEIR WAR BOND PURCHASERS

Among the special inducements that are being held out here this week for purchasers of War bonds in the Sixth War Loan drive, is the unique gift of an orchid. Mr. and Mrs. Swetland of Swetland's Posyland on Midway dr. announce that with the purchase of each $100 War bond at their florist shop between Dec. 1 and 16 an orchid corsage will be given.

FOLLOW THROUGH

The Sixth War Loan campaign got off to a good start. On the opening day approximately one-sixth of the "E" bond quota was subscribed.

In California, Delano in Kern county was the first community in the state to go "over the top." Its 4,500 citizens accounted for $300,000 on the first day.

But a good start is just one phase of the drive. It must be followed through vigorously if it is to be a complete success.

Some individuals may feel that they have already done their "share" in previous bond campaigns, or that in buying a small bond now they are fulfilling their obligation.

To the man at the front his "share" may be his life, but he doesn't quibble about it. If he has already accounted for a good many Japs or Jerries, or knocked out a number of tanks, he doesn't feel that there is nothing more for him to do.

California's quota of $836 million will be attained quickly if we all buy—and hold—all the war bonds we possibly can. So buy more bonds. Your nearest bank will accommodate you gladly. Banks have long donated their faciltiies and the time of many employees to aid war bond sales both during and between drives.

Your dollars will help to replace that plane or landing barge which was smashed in today's action. Keep the equipment rolling to our soldiers and they'll keep moving ahead.

1945 AUTO LICENSES

Well, Californians are to have license plates—or plate—once again in 1945. But if you want one that corresponds with your telephone or house number you had better forget it. The Motor Vehicle department announces that plates will not be taken out of their regular issuing order.

The 1945 plate will have a black background with dull white letters. The lowest number will be 1A101. The single plate will be displayed on the rear of the car.

The Motor Vehicle department also reveals that in spite of car rationing, California showed an increase in cars and trucks in the first nine months of this year. Most of the increase was in the heavy commercial trucks and trailers which are hauling an unprecedented tonnage of material produced in essential war industries.

Auto taxes will be the same next year, having been frozen for the three years 1943-45 inclusive. What action the legislature will take for 1946 and '47 at its next session remains to be seen.

Registration and motor vehicle license fees for the first nine months of this year totaled $27,744,233, or nearly $1,000.000 more than the figures for the same period in 1943.

It looks like the automobile is "here to stay," after all.

PAY ROLL TAX

Senator Vandenburg of Michigan is again leading the fight to freeze the social security pay roll tax at its present level of one percent each on employer and employee. Unless he is successful, the rate will increase automatically to two per cent each on January 1, 1945.

Present pay roll tax collections are sufficient to cover current disbursements, and it is estimated that the six billion dollar reserve which has been accumulated as a credit will not have to be touched for 20 years and possibly never.

In view of this, Congress should hold the tax at its present figure, at least until it can make a further study of the old-age plan. Some observers believe that the existing rate will be adequate indefinitely.

Workers who retire will not receive larger pensions if the tax rate is raised. The increase will simply mean that both employer and employee will pay double the present tax without any corresponding benefit.

Of course, the more money taken from pay envelopes and from employers, the more the government will have on hand to spend since all social security payments are used for current Federal expenses. But our pension plan was not intended to be used merely as a money-raising scheme.

During the recent political campaign both parties promised lower taxes to individuals and business as soon as possible. It would be ironic indeed if, instead, the pay roll tax should now be increased unnecessarily.

Honor Roll of Ocean Beach Men And Women Serving in This War

Below is a supplementary list, being new names that have been submitted to The News office since the last Honor Roll was published. From time to time, as space will permit, The News plans to publish the entire list up to date. The Ocean Beach Honor Roll committee has announced that the names to be inscribed on the Honor Roll Plaque will be "those living in Ocean Beach Postal Zone 7, and in the armed forces on Dec. 7, 1941; also anyone who has enlisted or was inducted into the service in Zone 7, 1941." The committee will decide which names from the published lists and from the lists provided by the air raid wardens are to be inscribed on the Plaque.

Reading and hearing the news you know what our boys are doing on every front. Now what are you doing on the home front to support them. First, of course, you are urged to buy that extra War bond, next go to the Blood Donor center, 446 W. Beech st. and give a pint of blood to save a life. And for the boys who are sick, wounded and who have given so much and are in our hospitals you are asked to get those boxes filled for Christmas. We have the boxes here at the center for two cents each.If you have separate articles to give and will send them to us at 4769 Del Monte ave. we will pack them. Games, pocket sized books, soap, handkerchiefs, talcum powder and small articles are needed.

This week we want especially tatting shuttles for the boys in hospitals, also 4x18 inch strips of rayon to cover clothes hangers. Miss Nye tells me these boys do beautiful work, but need these articles badly. Bring them in as soon as possible.

Don't forget the Christmas cards they must be in by today (Dec. 1) and all boxes must be ready by Dec. 15 at the latest.

Your old light globes, spools and Christmas cards also are needed.

Please remember the pleasure cookies give our boys and bring them in on Wednesday.

You will be much happier Christmas knowing you have done your part no matter how small.

A SOLDIERS PRAYER

The following was written by the editor of a country newspaper in Minnesota, back in 1917, the night before he enlisted . . . and appeared in his paper the next day.

"I am a mother's son. I am the pride of the family and part of a home. I love my life as you love yours. I am a youth in years and experience in life, yet I am a gambler, betting the highest stakes that a man can wager—my life. If I win, you win; if I lose, I have lost all. The loss is mine, not yours; and there is a grieved mother, a saddened family, and a broken home to which I can never return. I ask only for the God-speed and support of my nation in return for laying upon the altar of my country my all. For bravery and blood, will you furnish bullets and bread? Will you pawn your shekels if I pawn myself? Will you bet your gold while I bet my blood? Will you hazard your wealth while I risk my life? I am the flower of a nation's manhood, the glory of a noble race. I am the American soldier. I am the boy in the Trenches."—Chula Vista Star.

Sisters, volunteer for service!
Come today!
Workers are so badly needed,
don't delay!
Do you knit? or cut? or sew?
Stop! Look! Listen! Up and go,
(In compassion, love and pity)
To the War Relief committee!
Give a day, an hour or two,
There is so much work to do,
Making dresses, gowns, and skirts,
Quilts, pajamas, trousers, shirts.
Maybe you could baste or mend,
Sort of pack the things to send.
"Fields are white, and laborers few,"
None can fill your place but you.
Workers are so badly needed,
don't delay
Sisters, volunteer for service!
Come today!

STRAIGHT TALK

ABOUT THE

SIXTH WAR LOAN DRIVE

AS WE MOVE closer to victory, it wouldn't be surprising if you were saying to yourself — "What's the big idea of asking for all this additional money now? Isn't the war almost over?"

No sir, it is not! Not by a long shot. Of course, for many months now you've heard mostly about the war with Germany, where our greatest effort is concentrated. That's why many people have the idea that the war's practically over.

But make no mistake about it—nothing could be farther from the truth! The Japanese war is a tremendous undertaking, and victory will come high. We'll have to fight every inch of the way.

Everything Costs More—in the Pacific War

The European war is expensive, but almost everything in the Pacific war will cost more. Take transport costs, for instance: Because of the longer distances, the same amount of freight costs 25 per cent more when shipped to the South Pacific than to Europe. And it takes twice as many cargo ships in the Pacific to support a task force of a given size because turn-around time is twice as great!

More Planes . . . Tanks . . . Ships . . . Oil

In addition, we shall need more of everything. More B-29 Superfortresses that cost $600,000 each. More P-47 Thunderbolts that cost $50,000 each. More M-4 Tanks, with bulldozer blades, that cost $67,417 each. More amphibious tanks—more aircraft carriers —more supply ships—more gasoline and oil than it took for the invasion of Europe!

Care for the Sick and Wounded

And lest anyone forget, we shall need more battalion aid stations —more clearing stations—more evacuation hospitals—more convalescent hospitals—more hospital ships.

For many, many years the sick, wounded, and otherwise disabled veterans will require medical attention and care. That's the least Uncle Sam can do in appreciation of what they've done for us.

Maintenance for Millions

Did you ever stop to think how much money it costs to maintain the 11 to 12 million men and women in our army and navy? Whether the men are actually fighting or not, they must be fed, housed, transported from one training center or battle area to another, cared for in a hundred and one different ways. That all costs money and will continue to until the last man demobilized is back in civilian clothes.

In addition, millions of dollars will be required for mustering out pay, for various benefits and services voted by Congress to help the boys get started in civilian life.

These are reasons enough why patriotic Americans will want to buy heavily during the Sixth War Loan. But here are still more—

Winning the Peace—for Your Country

If we're to win the peace as well as the war, the cost of living must be kept down and the purchasing power of money preserved. A reckless inflation that would necessarily be followed by the catastrophe of deflation—with its unemployment, bankruptcies, misery and heartache—must be prevented at all cost.

Let's make no mistake—a dangerous period lies ahead. The American people have nothing to fear, however, if they show in the future the same common sense they have shown in the past, and continue to put every penny over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of more and more War Bonds.

Winning the Peace—for Yourself

Want another important reason? Yourself! There isn't a better or safer investment in the world today than War Bonds. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Never in our entire history has it been so necessary to save as right now. We'll need money, individually, for education, repairs, replacements, retirement—and we'll need a lot of it.

As you can see there are many reasons, important reasons, why our Government must have the financial support of everyone, and have it for many months to come.

Let all Americans do their part—for their own sake, for their country's.

Holiday Seals Mailed in 38th Annual Campaign

The 38th annual sale of Christmas seals—colorful little stickers which serve a practical as well as humanitarian purpose—began through Ocean Beach area this week when letters were mailed to thousands of homes.

Again sponsoring the sale is the San Diego Tuberculosis association, whose health education and disease prevention programs are county-wide. The seals, 100 to the sheet, cost only a penny each, and the proceeds are used in financing the organization's work. Recipients are asked to buy the seals, and forward the contribution to the association in an envelope enclosed in each letter.

It is urged that Christmas seals be used on cards, ,packages and letters from now until Christmas day. If everyone will do this, said Mrs. Florence Mead, president, the public at large will become definitely "Christmas seal conscious," and the objectives of the annual campaign will be that much more effectively publicized.

Beneficiaries of the sale are the association and Rest Haven Preventorium, which for years have achieved remarkable results. Mrs. Mead pointed out that the fund pays for free clinics and early diagnosis campaigns in schools, and helps to support the preventorium where undernourished children in need of preventive care are aided on the road back to health.

DEATH CALLS DR. WM. S. ARMSTRONG, SAN DIEGO DENTIST, ON NOVEMBER 24

Succumbing to a heart attack, Dr. Wm. S. Armstrong of 4776 Voltaire st., passed away in a San Diego hospital Friday, Nov. 24. He had practiced dentistry in this city for 33 years. Funeral rites in his honor were held Tuesday forenoon.

Dr. Armstrong had served as president, secretary and treasurer of the San Diego County Dental society and was active in various fraternal orders. He was a Shriner and also held membership in the Scottish Rite Masons and San Diego Lodge No. 35 of the Masons, and in the Knights of Pythias.

A native of Indiana, he was in railroad work before he became a dentist. He graduated from the Ohio College of Dental Surgery with honors in 1911 and came west to San Diego and opened a dental office.

Bereft are his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Montgomery and Mrs. Dorothy Hamre, three grandchildren, and his father, James H. Armstrong, the last named of Albany, Ore.

GOD IS MY CO-PILOT

By COL. ROBERT L. SCOTT

WNU Features.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I: Scott's early experiences with gliders and airplanes. He goes to Ft. McPherson and enlists in the regular army as a private.

CHAPTER II: Scott wins the West Point competitive exam and gets a furlough before reporting. He is graduated as a second lieutenant of infantry and goes to Europe, which he tours on a motorcycle. He sells his motorcycle and arrives at Randolph Field, Texas.

CHAPTER III: Scott makes his first solo flight. Drives 1,300 miles to Georgia over every week-end to see his girl. Scott is now graduated from Kelly Field and has wings pinned on his chest. Ordered to report to Hawaii but wanting to get married he lays his plight before the General and is ordered to report at Mitchel Field, N. Y., instead.

That afternoon I looked at the graph paper of the barometer recording, and there were two little jagged lines, plainly showing where the ship had lost nearly four thousand feet in two spins.

The weather flights got pretty monotonous, and I would take off from Mitchel and fly up over Boston, then let back down to my home base. Finally the meteorologist caught on and told me to please stay over the area, as he had other weather ships taking the same readings over Boston.

These flights taught me enough to save my life when the Army took over the airmail contracts a little later in the year.

If you remember 1934—there was trouble between the Government and the air lines concerning airmail contracts. To me even this was a life-saver in securing flying time, for all of us had recently been ordered to fly no more than four hours a month. This was the bare minimum to receive flying pay, and, as it turned out for many, the best way to get killed in airplanes. It's still a game that takes constant practice.

The weather we flew in to carry the mail during the winter of 1934 was about the worst in history. I sometimes think the powers on high collaborated to give us a supreme test. There were fourteen pilots killed along that airmail run, and most of them were killed because we had no instruments for the ships, or at least not the proper type for flying blind. We flew pursuit ships, which carried fifty-five pounds of mail; we flew old B-6 bombers that would carry a ton of mail at a speed of eighty miles an hour, providing the wind in front of you wasn't too strong—sometimes they almost went backwards. We flew everything from a Curtiss Condor which Mrs. Roosevelt had been using, to the old tri-motored Fords. And we flew through the worst weather in the country.

The route that I flew from Chicago, to Cleveland, to Newark, was what was known to all airmail pilots as the "Hell Stretch"—and it was just that, as I found out pretty quickly.

Sometimes people on new jobs got mixed up and sent the Cleveland mail in the wrong direction from Chicago, towards Omaha, or sent the Chicago mail from Cleveland to New York, the reverse direction—just normal events amid the "growing pains" of an Army flying the mail.

Once the control officer finally got a man in the air after sweating the weather out to the West for days. I saw his ship take off and disappear in the snowstorm. Then I saw Sam Harris jump up, for the U. S. mail truck had just driven up. It was late, and in the excitement of getting the ship's clearance the eager pilot had forgotten to wait to have the mail loaded. The control officer had to call him back and start all over.

It was during this airmail business that I really began to realize how lonely is the life in flight of a pilot alone in a ship, up at night with just the stars for company. We would take off on courses towards New York and Newark from Cleveland, and we were afraid—all of us knew that—because the weather was bad and we were in pretty sorry airplanes, and we hadn't flown routes like this. An airline pilot flies the same route most of the time. He learns the country over which he flies; he learns the weather conditions. But we had come from all sorts of posts in the United States. Some of us had flown only around San Antonio, Mitchel, or Miami. On Air Corps posts you do more or less local flying, working on combat maneuvers, but out here we were trying to do a job that we had not been prepared for.

I went to all the airline pilots and they were very nice to me. They told me what to do in case of bad weather in some places, and said that when I had to make a decision and didn't know exactly what to do, not to be afraid to turn around. That sometimes when I hit weather that I couldn't turn around in, to go up instead of going down, in order to seek levels where ice didn't form. And, in general, just not to get excited—and never to hesitate and circle.

About that time, when men had begun to die on airmail, I wrote a letter to this girl, the same one I had been going to see by automobile from Texas. It was addressed to her in case the "old ship hit something," and I carried it around in my pocket during all my trips of airmail—I nearly wore it out, just carrying it. But the ship didn't hit anything and she didn't see it. In it I must have just asked her to marry me—that's all I used to ask her anyway.

Col. Robert L. Scott Jr., author of "God Is My Co-Pilot."

One night I took off from Chicago and came to Cleveland. They couldn't find the man who was supposed to take the mail on to Newark; I found out later that he was sick. So I talked them into letting me take the ship on East. I climbed in and headed out towards the bad weather. When I got to it, following the experience I had gained in the months before and the advice I had received from the airline pilots, I climbed instead of diving, to hunt for a way through. At 18,000 feet I came out and over the clouds. I was alone, for as far as you could see. There were stars and a moon, and down below were the swirling clouds over the Alleghenies, dropping their snow and ice. If I had turned back towards Cleveland, I would have had to let down in the dark and probably would have crashed. So I decided to head into the clear sky of the night, at 18,000 feet, and as the dawn came the next morning I started my letdown, for at least I would have light in which to make the landing.

My radio had not worked since I had got into the snow and ice; so I was flying merely by dead-reckoning. I let down somewhere over what I thought was northern Pennsylvania, but after buzzing the town and reading the name, found I was over Binghamton, New York. I flew on South, having remembered a field at Scranton, Pennsylvania, and there I landed.

The landing was quite an experience. As I dove over the field I saw workmen there, frantically waving their arms. They were repairing the field. But I was about out of gasoline, so I came in, motioning with my hand for them to get out of the way. The only damage was caused by my landing on one of the small red flags on a stick that one of the workmen had been waving—he had hurriedly stuck it in the ground when he saw me landing regardless, and I came down right on top of it; but the small tear was of no consequence. I repaired it, had coffee with the man in charge of the airfield, and went on toward Newark.

They had long ago given me up for lost, for in that same night two other army pilots had met their death over the Alleghenies. Once again I felt that something had told me to climb when I got to the bad weather, and if that same thing had told those men to climb they would have flown through instead of going down—they might have disregarded a warning. In a case like that we think it's luck, but maybe it's not. To me something had said, "Get altitude, don't roam around down here, get altitude and go on." And I think that after that things just took care of themselves.

With airmail over, we went back to our usual duties at Mitchel Field. Things sort of settled down, and I began to make more flights and more automobile trips towards Georgia.

Finally I talked the girl into it. We went on up to West Point and were married. Catharine really fits into this story because it was the trips over to Georgia to see her, from every place in the United States, that not only made me drive an automobile but taught me cross-country flying, since I had been flying in these later months from wherever I was—by way of Georgia.

From Mitchel Field I was sent to Panama. And then began my real pursuit training. In P-12's I roamed across the country of Panama up into Central America and down into South America. I was given a job constructing flying fields, which we figured would some day protect the Canal. These fields were put in for the purpose of installing radio stations and also air warning devices to tell us when enemy planes approached the Panama Canal. I would have to go down on the Colombian border and contact the natives, some of whom were head-hunters, to work on these fields that we were building. We would have to get the grass cut off, and I would make motions with a machete—the long knife of the Darien Indians—and show them what we had to do to keep that field so that airplanes could land on it.

The natives didn't work very well with us at first. But we doctored a few of them for chiggers and for other infections under their fingernails which had become very inflamed, or we flew men in to hospitals who needed operations, and soon they began to appear more friendly. By the time we left there they were calling me "El Doctor." The only thing I want to bring out by this is that by doing simple kindnesses to these Indians, we were able to get them on our side, and they added materially to the value of fields that we constructed in Darien, and on the Chucunacque.

When my training of other pilots began, I realized the terror I must have caused my own instructor. For in training I perceived my own faults better, learning even to anticipate the mistakes the student would make. And I learned much about the peculiarities of man, for on one occasion I had a student who attempted to kill me. I don't know why—he would have killed himself, too.

One day I was told to take out a cadet listed as an incorrigible and to try to find out what was wrong with him. I gave him forced landings and such, and when he tried to glide down and land on a highway, I would take the ship and caution him about gliding low towards trucks and automobiles. On one of these tries, as I gave him a forced landing—you do this merely by cutting the throttle to idling speed to see what the student will do—he rolled the ship on its back and pulled it down in a dive towards the ground. I waited as long as I could and then I took it away myself. I found that the man was glaring straight toward the trees we had almost hit. I landed the ship and asked him what was the matter. He appeared very sullen, and so I took him aloft again.

Once more I put the ship on its back and told him to bring it out. Immediately he pulled it toward the ground, and I knew it was intentional. With alarm I realized that with him almost frozen to the controls I would have extreme difficulty taking the ship from him by force. I hurriedly kicked the right rudder, which carried the half roll into a complete snap roll. Then I went through every acrobatic maneuver I knew until I made him sick; after that I flew him back to Randolph Field with my own heart beating a little wildly.

As I landed the ship two men stepped from behind a plane, asking to see the student. "You just wait a minute," I said. "After all, he's my student and I have some things to say to him." Then they pulled gold badges out of their pockets to show me they were F.B.I. men. They had been looking for this student for a long time. He had been a pilot before and had smuggled dope across the Mexican border, and I believe to this day that to evade the arrest that was waiting for him, he was trying to end it all. But the worry I had here was that in ending it for himself, he would have been ending it for me.

When I first came to Randolph we worked only half a day and had the rest of the day to play around at golf, to hunt, or do anything we wanted. But as the belief that war was coming got into a few American people, we started the limited Air Corps expansion program. We then began working all day, and I was moved up to a Flight Commander and taught instructors, for the Government was giving contracts to civilian corporations to train Army pilots. The Air Corps was beginning to grow. As the years rolled into 1939, I was moved to California to become Assistant District Supervisor of the West Coast Training Center. This job was to check all flying cadets in the three schools at San Diego, Glendale, and Santa Maria. Later on I received my first command—that of the Air Corps Training Detachment called Cal-Aero Academy, at Ontario, California. I worked this up from forty-two cadets, until after one year we had nearly six hundred.

OCEAN BEACH WOMAN INJURED IN LEAP FROM POLICE CAR THURSDAY

Miss Inez Sikes of Ocean Beach is reported recovering at the county hospital from injuries she suffered when she jumped from an El Cajon police car late Thursday last week. Police Chief Fred Parrott of El Cajon reported she and another young woman and two young men were apprehended by the officers on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. While the four were being transported to the county bastile, Miss Sikes leaped from the car and suffered brain concussion, cuts and abrasions of the hands and knees, the officers reported.

Taxable Value Of Property in County Jumps

The $302,854,269 taxable value of property in San Diego county for 1944-45 is up 37 percent from the $221,461,643 assessed value of property in the county for 1940-41, California Taxpayers' association stated today, making public its analysis of assessed valuations in California counties since the United States entered the war.

Property values in the county this year are as follows: Land $90,142,199; improvements on land, $151,253,590; and personal property and money, $72,005,400 Exemptions, which have been deducted from these valuations, total $10,546,920.

Throughout the state, the total taxable value of property for 1944-45 is $8,267,099,366, an increase of 16 percent over the $7,138,621,257 valuation for 1940-41, the association found. Valuations in the state are divided as follows: Land, $3,254,573,595 improvements on land, $3,566,251,096; personal property and money, $1,652,063,149. Exemptions which have been granted throughout the state this year total $205,788,474.

"In every community where taxable valuations are up, the amount each cent of property tax rate will raise is up accordingly," the Taxpayers' organization stated.

WHAT'S BUZZIN'!

By CHERIE.

Interesting ink spots . . .

Louise Carter's bewitching smile is catching! Louise, you know, is the gal at the Postoffice window who is taking your Christmas packages, and it's good to see a lovely smile amidst the hurry and flurry of Christmas shopping . . . The service station at the corner of Voltaire and Abbott streets burned down last week. The station belonged to "Red" and "Bob." ("Bob" is the Springer Spaniel and he is 18 years old — equivalent to 126 years in our lives!) . . . Larry Kuhl has been eating ice cream and drinking milk due to a tonsilectomy Monday . . . And far be it from me not to publish the fact that I was 36 years young Monday . . . Lieut. and Mrs. Arthur Kline are enjoying the company of Mrs. Ada Jacobsen, Mrs. Kline's mother, who is here on an extended visit from Boston. Mrs. Jacobsen says she finds Ocean Beach climate so pleasant that she postponed her trip back until the first of the year . . . The Sterling Chapmans are saying "au revoir" for the time being. They will probably make their home in Long Beach . . . Clyde Tallman (Lownes) had a birthday Nov. 24 . . . Bill Hawley did up another year, too. That's 55 of them for Bill . . . Congrats, and all that sort of thing to both of you . . . Kenny and Gowney Goebbel are back at the Beach and we may expect an heir, but not for some time . . . Along about the same time, the Libermans will be naming an addition to their family . . . Stop me if I'm wrong, but Retha Kulla's broad grin and sparkling eyes are due to Lester's homecoming! Lester is with the Merchant Marines . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ben Henderson and Jim Woods of Hollywood were house guests of the Strausses last week-end. Mrs. Henderson and yours truly were celebrating our birthdays, and the Woods were celebrating their 10th anniversary.

Notes of interest with Christmas spirit . . .

The pottery and figurines in pastel shades together with the flower and fern display make an outstanding trim for Jo's Flower Shop . . . Veda Moss has a clever arrangement of artificial flowers and feathers for the hair in an attractive display atop her jewelery case . . . And last but not least, are Marc's windows and interior decorations — They're making their debut this week.

* * * *

Celeste does it again!

Celeste Hollycross has sold her figurines and statuettes, among them "Susie," "Springtime" and the Chinese children, "Lan Far" and "Chong," to Herbert Dubler Inc., of New York City. The trade name under which you may identify her work now is "Ars Sacra," a name which will be stamped on each figurine. For some time now, we have been watching Celeste's clever work as they were placed on display in the Home Appliance Shop next to Strand Theatre. A few of us are fortunate enough to have some of her models on our whatnot shelves at home, and Celeste, we think it's wonderful, but we knew it was only a matter of time before your work would be "discovered!"

* * * *

This week's novel interest . . .

All America will soon acclaim this novel of five ex-marines facing the problems of life and love in a civilian world. "They Dream of Home" by Niven Busch isn't bitter—it's true. There were five of them came back—four and a half, to be exact, because Perry, the big Negro, came back without any legs. They knew only one things—that they must stick together. By sticking together, they had pulled through two years in the south Pacific, and probably would pull through whatever fate had in store for them. It is a poignant and dramatic novel, and it speaks to YOU.

And now to finish my Christmas shopping!

Ocean Beach Flier Now An Instructor

Officers of the Eighth Army Air Force in England have found the services of S/Sgt. Luther G. Cook of Ocean Beach so valuable as a turret-gun instructor that his hopes for getting home soon will not be realized he writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cook, 1989 Ebers st. In the Nov. 7 letter, which they received Wednesday, he wrote "the officer in charge says I'm doing such a swell job that they couldn't replace me, so I told them I'd stay here a little longer. So it doesn't look like I'd be coming home for awhile." He writes that he is in charge of an armanent shop at his air base in England.

S/Sgt. Luther G. Cook

Cook, who is a graduate of Pt. Loma high school, has been across about a year, has 30 combat missions to his credit, and though only 20, he already has the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal and four Oak Leaf Clusters.

Well—the Christmas boxes are rolling in — the Ocean Beach school received another 11 boxes all beautifully wrapped with "Merry Christmas" paper and tied with pretty red and green ribbons with little "rosettes" of ribbon tied on top. The approximate cost of these boxes is $1.50. One of the boxes contained: two lead pencils, tube of shoe cream, soap, shaving cream, three comic postcards, tobacco pouch, one pocket size mystery thriller, shoe laces, shoe polisher, watch strap and two wash cloths. Another had two lead pencils, soap, comic cards, razor blades, a book, shoe laces, tooth paste, shoe polisher Styptic sticks, emery boards tooth brush holder, two games package of envelopes and two wash cloths. This is just a typical list, however, as there are many other items that can be used in filling these boxes.

As the time is now getting short, we must urge you to get those boxes packed and taken to the school before Dec. 15, the the closing date.

Also turned in this week were 50 new Christmas cards for use by the men to send to their relatives and friends.

As we all know, the Sixth War Loan drive is now on. Buy that extra war bond and keep it. Don't be an "Indian giver"—for that's what you are when you cash in your War Bonds.

A new class in home nursing started yesterday (Thursday) at Pt. Loma high school and will meet every Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Bertha K. Leadbeater.

Local Beaches on Crary's List For Public Ownership

The local beaches from Mission Bay south to Santa Monica are on a list of southern California beaches that Councilman G. C. Crary has recommended to the Shoreline Planning Association of California for public ownership, they being deemed essential to a long-range San Diego city parks and recreation program. Through this association, 14 counties fronting on the ocean plan to submit to the state legislature a request for a $10,000,000 apropriation for acquiring private beach areas for public use. Financing the program would be on a matching basis.

On Tuesday, the city council took action authorizing City Planning Director Glen Rick to submit to the association a list of beach properties included by Crary in his recommendations. The Ocean Beach shoreline mentioned is included in that list.

GEORGE McKEON WILL SING ON WAR BOND PROGRAM AT PLAZA

George McKeon of 4611 Santa Cruz ave., local musician, will be on the War Bond campaign program at the Plaza on Sunday, Dec. 2 at 12:30. He will sing with the Jules Jacques Consoildated Military band, using two of his own compositions, "Blood for the Brave," and "Walking Beside a Soldier," as well as other selections. This is a Bond program but Mr. McKeon had been to Blood center on Monday for his third donation and found only three others there—so he asked to sing the "Blood for the Brave" song to try to inspire others to give Blood for our soldiers as well as to buy Bonds to equip them. He is to broadcast also this coming week.

Legion Post to Sponsor Christmas Eve USO Party

Clyde A. Wright Post No. 433 of the American Legion has decided to again sponsor a Christmas eve party for the servicemen to be held in the Ocean Beach USO rooms, Commander Earl Shaw announced this week. A Christmas tree, presents for all the servicemen attending, as well as refreshments are a part of the plan for the Legion's sponsorship of this event. Preparations for around 200 servicemen are being made.

The business people of Ocean Beach will be asked to each contribute a small amount to the fund necessary, as they did last year, the post commander stated.

Program for the event will include the singing of Christmas carols.

The Legion also expects to sponsor the Christmas dance to be held at the local USO on Christmas night, to provide the orchestra and the refreshments, the post commander added.

ENTERTAIN SERVICEMEN FOR THANKSGIVING FEED

Not being able to have any of their own three sons who are in the service home for Thanksgiving, Dr. and Mrs. Myron Insko, 4565 Brighton, entertained seven servicemen sons of other parents at Thanksgiving turkey dinner, most of whom are from Texas. In the group were two Roman Catholics, two United Presbyterians, two Methodists and a Greek Orthodox church member, reports Dr. Insko.

Grain Values

Corn and other grains contain a ratio of nine parts carbohydrates to one of protein.

Press Cloths

Specially treated press cloths are available in many stores today. They help prevent scorching and are especially good for heavy woolens.

Dry Areas

Almost 25 million of the country's 132 million people live in legally dry areas!

Motor Accidents

Motor vehicle accidents killed 23,400 persons in 1943, the lowest total since 1926, when the same number were killed. This total represents a 17 per cent decrease from 1942, a 41 per cent decrease from prewar 1941 and a 25 per cent decrease from 10 years ago. There were 800,000 non-fatal injuries during the year. Deaths and injuries together are estimated to have cost the nation $700,000,000 in lost income, medical expense and insurance costs; and another $550,000,000 property damage.

Warm grease tends to penetrate the leather more readily.

Gas Consumption

Eighteen thousand gallons of gasoline are consumed every hour for each mechanized division on the move.

Hand-Rail

Be sure there is a firm hand-rail on at least one side of each stairway in your home. The stairway is a good place for falls.

Safety First

Provide a safe rack for such sharp edged tools as knives, axes and saws. Repair shaky ladders. Nail down loose boards. It pays to prevent accidents.

State Flower

Colorado's state flower, the columbine, is one of the most delicate of the wild flowers. Frequently found in secluded spots in Rocky Mountain national park, the columbine ranges from a light lavender to a deep purple, and is usually found in shady spots.

Falls in Home

Half of the home accident deaths, 16,200 were due to falls in 1943. They were 5 per cent more frequent than in 1942. Burns resulted in about 6,200 deaths, or one-fifth of all home accident fatalities. The increase over 1942 in deaths from burns amounted to 15 per cent.

Farm Taxes

Farmers paid about the same real estate taxes per acre during 1943 as they did in the middle 30s, low point for taxes during the depression period. Little variation was shown last year over 1942, when taxes were about the same as in 1934.

Comfort to Afflicted

Sufferers from stomach ulcers always have had to avoid highly acid fruits. Even raw peaches were taboo. But plant breeders have developed varieties of many fruits which will be harmless to the ulcer sufferers. Recently a number of peach breeds were obtained which are very low in acid content.

Coffee Habit

Coffee was not introduced into Java until hundreds of years after coffee drinking had become a national habit among Arabian Mohammedans. Although the Mohammedans used coffee to keep people awake during devotional services, coffee drinking was actually prohibited by the Koran and severe penalties were threatened to violators. The appreciation of coffee as a beverage in Europe dates from the time of the coffee houses in the 17th century.

A HOME-MAKER WHO WAS JUST THAT

RECENTLY I HEARD a woman say: "Whatever success I have achieved has been as a club woman." Knowing that lady and her family, I would amend that statement. Her greatest success has been as a home-maker and a mother.

Thinking of that statement served to recall an incident of some years ago, in which another club woman, Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, then president of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, played a leading role.

I had known John Sherman two or three years before I met Mrs. Sherman. He was a newspaper man and writer of much more than average ability. For a number of years he was city editor of the Chicago Daily Tribune. The only thing of which he was inordinately proud was that of being the husband of Mrs. Sherman. He never wearied of the subject of her brilliance and achievements, though during the years in which she was actively engaged in club work he saw but little of her. Mrs. Sherman's activities caused her to live in Washington. He lived in a room in a Chicago boarding house. Their home was a mountain cabin on the side of Long's Peak in Rocky Mountain Park, Colorado. There Mrs. Sherman spent her summer months, and he spent his two-weeks' summer vacation with her.

From hearing so much of Mrs. Sherman I had formed quite a definite idea of her personality and appearance. To my imagination she was a portly, austere dame with a commanding presence. She would have gray hair, worn in a tight wave "permanent do." Her dress would be a dark colored, severely tailored suit, with a touch of the feminine in the white ruching at the throat and cuffs.

Mrs. Patterson was spending a summer at Estes Park and knew Mrs. Sherman. Dropping off there while on a western trip, Mrs. Patterson and I walked down the business street of the village, and she was telling me that before I left we must call on Mrs. Sherman. As she talked I noticed a chipper little lady walking toward us. She wore a reasonably broad brimmed light straw hat, cocked jauntily on one side of a head covered with fluffy, reddish brown hair, and was wearing a brightly flowered dress of light material. As Mrs. Patterson looked up the lady stopped in front of us, and I was introduced to Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman.

"Not the president of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs?" I said.

"That's me," said the lady.

"But woman, it just cannot be," I insisted. "You look like you could cook a meal."

"At noon, tomorrow, I will demonstrate that I can," she replied. "Mrs. Patterson and you are to be at the cabin for lunch."

That mountain cabin was a comfy, homey home for a man and woman. No frills, no fancy furnishings, but an attractive, comfortable place in which to live. It had every evidence of the home-maker's deft touch, with a thought for the man of the house. The lunch was the kind a man enjoys. A generous quantity of mountain trout, fried to perfection. Mrs. Sherman had caught them, as well as cooked them. There were french fried potatoes, hot rolls, mountain berry pie and coffee. She did it all.

"Yes, woman," I commented, "you are a success as a home-maker, and knowing your son, I can also say as a mother, and I had thought of you only as a club woman."

Mrs. Sherman explained that the first essential to success in woman's club work is ability as a home-maker. She possessed that first essential. I could understand John Sherman's pride.

CALIFORNIA TO VOTE ON IMPORTANT LABOR ISSUE

AT THE NOVEMBER ELECTION California will vote on a state constitutional amendment that, if passed, will insure in that state freedom to work without the necessity of paying tribute to labor bosses for the privilege. It will in no sense deny the right of labor to organize, but it will prevent the enforced joining of a union in order to get a job. It is an indication of the resentment against the arbitrary edicts of labor racketeers that are injuring the cause of labor.

This Home-Mixed Cough Syrup Is Most Effective

Easily Mixed. Needs No Cooking.

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. Or use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving because it gives you about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough relief. Promptly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Add ordinary cow's milk to the possible sources for rubber. Chemists, it recently was announced, have developed a product from milk which has the characteristics of natural rubber.

When the rubber tapper goes into the South American forests to work, he requires about 100 items of equipment and some 40 different items of food. And they say life in the rubber jungle is simple!

Test fleets of motor vehicles are driven 150,000 vehicle miles a day to develop "bugs" in synthetic tire construction. That mileage is about six times around the earth.

Toy Chest That Has Folding Table Top

STENCILING the scalloped borders, bright stars and topsy-turvy letters on this gay toy chest is sure to put you in the Christmas spirit. The chest itself is easy to make from scraps of plywood and it has a number of special features that will please Mother as well as the youngsters.

The rope handles and wooden wheels make it possible to move a complete assortment of toys to any convenient spot. Then off comes the lid; folding legs are opened up; and Little Miss Muffit has a table just the right height for play. When Mother wants to move, toys and all are trundled along until it is time for pandas and dolls to be tucked away under the star-spangled top for another night.

V-DAY CELEBRATION

A colonel was startled to receive a sharp kick in the pants from a sergeant who opened the door of his car for him. A private, who was passing by, walked up and promptly planted another kick in the same spot. At the court-martial the sergeant pleaded that the colonel had stepped on his most sensitive corn and that he had lost his self-control. The private, in turn, snapped to attention, though white and trembling, and explained that on seeing the sergeant's action he — "naturally"—thought that the war was over.

O.E.S. Chapter Installs New Officers Nov. 25

Point Loma chapter O. E. S., held impressive installation services Saturday evening in the Ocean Beach elementary school auditorium, before a large audiance of members, relatives and friends of the Order.

William Nelson, past worthy patron, and Installing Marshals Virginia Putney and Mary Mayfield, entered the chapter room as the first strains of a march was played by Lilian Dodds, installing organist. The opening address was given by Wm. Nelson and a cordial welcome extended to those present.

Fern Herbst, worthy matron and Leroy Lee, worthy patron, as installing officers, were then escorted to the "East." They in turn introduced Betty Van Cott and Wm. Nelson as installing officers.

At the invitation of Fern Herbst, the marshals escorted the officers-elect into the chapter room, after which visiting grand officers were introduced from the "East" as follows: Gladys McKoon and Clara Finley, 1945 grand deputies; Anie Sivel, 1944 grand deputy. Other visitors were Leta Ehmcke of Silver Strand; Gladys Bishop, Estrella; Jennevieve Reinbach, Chula Vista; Lennie Fiedler, Normal Heights.

Past matrons and patrons of Pt. Loma chapter, introduced were, Mary Lee, Betty Van Cott, Rose Cochrane, Gertrude Angert, Wm. Nelson and David Cobb.

The flag of our country was carried by David Cobb and the allegiance to the flag given by the audience. Sister marshals escorted Mathilda Peebles, bearing the Bible, who placed it reverently upon the altar to the strains of "Holy, Holy, Holy."

roll of officers-elect, who as their

Marshal Mayfield called t names were called formed two semi-circles around the altar. All officers, except Agnes Driskill who wore a beautiful cerise taffeta gown and carried a white rose bud bouquet with chartreuse satin ribbon streamers, were gowned in white silk jersey, cut on simple lines. Each carried a white prayer book graced with cerise and chartreuse ribbon rosettes and streamers.

Gertrude Angert installed Agnes Driskill as worthy matron of Pt. Loma chapter and Walter Kidwell was installed worthy patron by Leroy Lee. Before taking their seats in the "East," Frank Ahren sang "Teach Me to do Thy Will", and "Just For Today," respectively, accompanied by Leta Ehmcke.

Jeannette Hendrickson, becomingly gowned in white silk jersey with silver sequin trim and carrying a prayer book graced with cerise rose buds and blue and silver ribbon streamers, was installed associate matron by Betty Van Cott. Paul Hendrickson was installed associate patron by Wm. Nelson.

Lilian Dodds played as a piano and solo vox selection, Berceuse by Godard, winning a round of applause. Then followed the installation of Ella Cole, secretary; Virginia Putney, treasurer; Elizabeth Essex, conductress; Melba Belcher, associate conductress; Esther Milton, chaplain; Grace Mayers, marshal; Gertrude Angert, organist; Florence Danner, warder; Lucile Schroyer, sentinel.

The five rays of the central Star installed were, Ellen Frazier, "Ada"; Eva Swetland, "Ruth"; Adelaide Calvery, "Esther"; Ona Wallace, "Martha"; Ethel Rogers, "Electa."

The newly installed worthy matron expressed her appreciation to those who had made the evening so perfect—Mary Lee, who served as chairman of arrangements and music; Lilian Dodds as musician; David Cobb, flag bearer; Virginia Putney as marshal and Mary Mayfield, who was called upon as marshal for most of the installation services, and was most proficient and charming in her work; also Frank Ahren, soloist.

The closing prayer was given by Mathilda Peebles and with the proclamation that all officers were duly installed, by Mary Mayfield, the services were concluded.

LOCAL STUDIO REVUE ENTERTAINS 4000 PER MONTH OF SERVICE FOLKS

Lucille Iverson's second U.S.O. revue, "Starlet Varieties," has been showing the past two months in various camps in and around San Diego.

The revue is composed of 24 persons who give over an hour's entertainment in songs and dances. The girls, many of whom are from Ocean Beach, enjoy dancing for an average of 4000 service-men and women a month, reports Miss Iverson.

Their last show of November was at the new theatre at Fort Rosecrans on Thursday.

People participating are: Miss Iverson, Nanette Bailey, Colleen Murphy, Maridee Clark, Gladys Donnan, Mary Helen Parks, Janie Cushing, Judy Ann Hennesy, Mary Blake, Charlotte Hively, Ruth Scott, Arlene Williams, Shirley Graves, Betty Thompson, Betty Smillie, Betty Chamberlain, Jeanette Wallace, Donna Ockerman, June Blackeett, Marjorie Wilbanks, Margo Miller, Helen Case, John Scott and accompanist, Wilma Gragg.

IN THE SERVICE—

Corp. Robert A. Wedgewood, son of Mrs. H. M. Wedgewood of 1071 Sunset Cliffs blvd., was listed last week by the War department as one of three San Diegans wounded in action in the European theatre of the war. Extent and nature of his wounds was not disclosed.

— V —

Another Ocean Beach officer, Major Everett H. Vaughan of 4845 Narragansett ave., is "doing his stuff" in the Pacific war theatre. He is a member of the Marine Corps air force somewhere in the Marshall Islands which in 5000 sorties in a six months period contributed to the record of two million rounds of ammunition fired and three million pounds of bombs dropped.

— V —

Corp. Arthur F. Wilson of the U. S. Army left Monday for Fort Worth, Tex., where he has been assigned to new duty. He had been in San Diego since the previous Thursday for a visit with his parents on Collier st., San Diego, and with his brother Eric Wilson of the Eric-Lee cafe. The brothers hadn't seen each other for three years. Corp. Wilson came here from Boston, Mass.

Lt. Col. John E. Fitzgerald jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fitzgerald, 3808 Chatsworth blvd., is again in the limelight, having been awarded an Oak Leaf Cluster to his Distinguished Flying Cross, according to announcement by the Eighth Air Force headquarters. The award came in recognition of his leadership of a large formation of bombers in a raid over Germany last August. When change of weather necessitated a change in the scheduled bomb run, Lt. Col. Fitzgerald "carefully selected an important target and directed the formation to it successfully among heavy flak." Pilot of a Flying Fortress and a veteran of 26 daylight bombing missions over German targets, Fitzgerald also is a holder of the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

Donald G. Davis T/5c, who has been overseas for more than a year, with the Field Artillery, writes his mother, Mrs. Ruth Davis, 4725 Coronado ave., that he is now in Germany. In his last letter he said he had just returned from a short rest period in Belgium, where he had a chance to catch up on some reading and sleep. He mentions how much he likes the Belgian people and how kind they are to the Americans, also how clean they are.

— V —

Pvt. R. G. Allen, son of Mrs. Melvin Ibey, 4646 Cape May ave., writes in a letter she received Wednesday that he will be home on furlough for Christmas. He has been stationed for the past four months at Mountain Home, Idaho, where he is on duty with the Army Air Corps and is taking a special course in criphotography, the art of de-coding radio messages. Pvt. Allen, who is a graduate of Pt. Loma high school, has been in the service for one year.

LITERATURE GROUP ENJOYS BOOK REVIEW; PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY DEC. 11

An unusually large group of women enjoyed the book review by Miss Margaret Rankin, librarian, given at the Monday evening meeting of the literature department of the Ocean Beach Woman's club, held at the clubhouse. She reviewed "Anna and the King of Siam," and pointed out how the influence of one woman in a few years had changed the conditions of living for millions of people.

Mrs. R. J. Long, the department chairman, conducted a short business session, during which Mrs. C. W. Early, club president, gave a report on the Federation district meeting she had attended recently at Riverside, Calif.

The group made plans for a Christmas party to be held at the clubhouse on Monday, Dec. 11, at 8 p.m.

At the meeting Monday, refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Paul W. Farrar and Mrs. L. Krettner.
